1. INTRODUCTION

The CRO Mission Statement is to:

ensure a high level of filing of returns due, a rapid turnaround of the information on those returns with the assurance that the information provided to us complies with the relevant statutory provisions and that the information supplied by us accurately reflects that provided.

We divide that statement into its three parts covering INPUT, getting companies to file returns due, OUTPUT, ensuring that the public have ready access to those documents and QUALITY, endeavouring as far as possible that the documents are properly completed and that we furnish correct information in turn.

INPUT

Enforcement

We have undertaken in our enforcement activities to focus our actions on companies with a history of repeated late filings by way of:

- Supplementing our standard pre-and post-ARD reminder notices to companies, by sending notices to the directors of such companies at their residential addresses, and
- Intensifying the level of section 371 High Court actions against such companies.

While the new notices elicited responses from some directors who had hitherto not responded to notices addressed to their companies, the interaction between the CRO and the CSSO on the section 371 front did not yield a sufficient number of cases for the courts until towards the end of the year.

Our key measure of compliance is the number of companies up-to-date at any given time in the filing of their annual return and accounts. For annual report purposes we measure that figure as at 31 December. The rate of progress under that heading was disappointing. The figure at 31 December 2007 was 88.5% as opposed to 88% a year earlier. We had hoped to achieve 89.5%.

For the number of companies filing a current return we had set a target of 92% in the business plan and reached 90% up from 89% in 2006. We set a target of 80% of companies to file on time in 2007 and achieved 77% up from 75% in 2006.

Revenue from late filing penalties remained high at €17.9 million. That is however a reduction from €20.7 million in the previous year.

We need to continue our efforts to drive down non-compliance and late filing penalties.

Liquidations and receiverships

We achieved our targets for processing and scanning of initial documents for liquidations, receiverships and examinerships but we were not able to achieve the integration of these processes into the integrated enforcement environment on which our enforcement processes are based.

OUTPUT

Documents received electronically can be readily made available for inspection.

In 2007, 125,000 returns were filed electronically, a 50% increase over the previous year. It was encouraging that these numbers were particularly strong towards the end of the year giving rise to the hope of continued growth in 2008. If the percentages for the last quarter of 2007 are sustained then we can anticipate a further 30% increase in 2008. We are hopeful however that we can exceed that figure.

Backfile Project

In preparation for the full decentralisation to Carlow we embarked on a project, in 2006, to scan all of the pre-1990 documents for live companies, which had not been scanned. During 2007, more than half a million documents were scanned and indexed, over 70% of which have been transferred to the imaging system and are now available online for public inspection. There remain only a few documents that require indexing. As a result, requests for "hard files" on live companies have virtually ceased.

Bulk Data

We achieved our objective of delivering data products to CRO customers in accordance with published delivery commitments.

Web Search facility

We set a target for 2007 of 92% of searches carried out on line. This target was exceeded by September 2007 with more than 93% conducted online in October and November. This compares to 91% in November 2006.

Postal Lodgements

The receipt of submissions through the cash system remains a critical output from the Office as delays in recording documents result in a diminution of customer service and impact on the enforcement process.

For 2007 we undertook to process all documents submitted by the public within the day and process all postal lodgements within three days of receipt at normal times and to clear them within seven days of receipt at peak times of the year.

The Office continued to deal with the seasonal peaks in a timely manner. No large backlogs were allowed to accumulate in 2007.

The major project undertaken by the Office in 2007 was the decentralization of the Postal Lodgements and Annual Returns Section of the Office to Carlow in July (see detailed note below).

A total of almost 406,219 submissions were received throughout the year, of which over 172,805 were annual returns. Almost 50,000 submissions were received and processed through the cash system during the month of October 2007 alone. Almost 28,000 of these were annual returns of which nearly 7,000 were electronic.

Public Office Lodgements

While postal lodgements are handled by the Carlow office, documents are also lodged in person in the Dublin Office and our commitment to process all documents received in Dublin, and account for receipts, within the day was achieved.

Processing of Current Post-Incorporation documents

The registration of documents other than annual returns was kept up to date during the year and the preliminary processing of annual returns was also satisfactorily completed, particularly during the peak filing periods in January and October.

The scanning of documents was also achieved in good time.

Mortgages

We achieved our targets of scanning mortgage documents within 7 days of receipt and keeping the Slavenburg list completely up to date. Slippage has occurred in the registration of mortgages within the 14 day limit set out in the Business Plan.

Business Names

Most electronic applications were registered within the target period of 5 to 7 working days of receipt with particular attention given to electronically filed applications.

Post Incorporation - Unit A

There was a major re-organisation of the work of the section with a number of the current tasks transferred to the Carlow office.

A-List achieved its scanning objectives for the year within the targeted times and implemented, as indicated in the business plan, the new workflow system for registering various post-incorporation forms. While registration was generally satisfactory, a backlog of B10, notification of change of officer, forms had accumulated by year-end which has since been cleared.

A-List also gave extensive support to the ODCE and other government bodies for provision of original documents, the certification of documents or provision of section 370 certificates.

Limited Partnerships and External companies

We achieved our targets for the processing and scanning of documents under this heading but we have not yet completed the exercise of updating the register of external companies by contacting each branch that is in arrears with filing.

System Downtime

Our commitment was to ensure a rapid response to unplanned downtime.

Unplanned System downtime was minimal during the year.

Disaster Recovery

We undertook to have a trial run during 2007 of a complete transfer of IT systems to a replica system off-site.

The image storage facility and the database have been replicated and moved off-site. Work is almost complete on the replication of all other applications. It was anticipated that this work would be completed in 2007 and all replicas moved off-site and that a mock-up of a disaster recovery could be conducted. Some of that work remains to be done in 2008.

QUALITY

Business Process Re-engineering (BPR)

In December 2006 it was decided by the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Employment that 32 staff from CRO would decentralise to Carlow the following July, in advance of the full decentralisation of the Office in 2009.

A decision was taken as to which functions should be moved and a BPR committee was convened to look at what changes in current processes were required in this new structure and to examine potential for improvement. The committee consisted of a cross section of the office by grade and location. The committee reported their conclusions in June 2007 and the resulting document is used as a high level procedures manual for both offices. The manual has been and will be continually reviewed in light of lessons learned.

E Filing

CRO's principal means of dealing with the increased volumes of registration resulting from greater compliance is the automation of its processes. The outsourced key-up of annual return data has largely automated the registration process for these forms. This outsourcing is slowly being replaced by enabling and encouraging the presenters to key up the data and file the returns online.

A facility for electronic filing of the annual return was added to our online filing environment, CORE and was formally launched in April 2007. The web-based annual return filing application presents to the filer a pre-filled annual return, which they only have to check, amend where appropriate and sign. This facility has proved extremely successful, with more than 17% of annual returns filed by this method in December 2007. Its availability is advertised in every ARD notification letter, which also encloses an instruction leaflet.

The main advantage of this method for the CRO and the customer is that it checks and validates the content of the form against the register, thereby reducing errors and the resulting need to return the document to the presenter with queries. It also enables the documents without queries to be registered by the IT system without any human intervention. More than 60% of annual returns filed from this application are being registered automatically. That saves time and money for companies and their agents as well as for the CRO. The cost saving is passed back to clients in the form of lower filing fees and the information available is of an increasingly high quality and accuracy.

As can be seen from the table below, the take-up of the e-filed annual return was very slow compared to other forms. A number of measures have resulted in the disproportionate increase since 2005:

- The introduction of the statutory Electronic Filing Agent (EFA) in December 2005,
- The differential in fees for electronic filing introduced in December 2005
- Functionality was added, in 2006, to third party software packages which now allows clients to choose to generate a signature page that will be signed by the Director/Secretary and
- The launch of the web-based pre-filled annual return in April 2007.

An online form B69 (declaration that a person has ceased to be a director or secretary of a company which has failed to send notification of the said cessation) was added to CORE in February 2007. If filed electronically there is no fee. This is to cater in particular for company formation agents who, due to the historic, now ceased, practice of forming shelf companies, are recorded as directors of companies from which they have, long since, resigned. However, the companies have failed to notify the Registrar. We are anxious to clean up the register by facilitating the filing of the form B69 in these cases. The number of B69s filed almost doubled in 2007 to more than 1,000 with over half of these being filed electronically.

During 2007 the take-up of e-filing continued to increase. The following shows the increase since 2003:

	2003	2004	2005	2006	2007
B10 change in director/secretary	16.9%	28.7%	43.6%	46.9%	52.2%
B1 Annual Return	1.1%	4.2%	5.4%	9.3%	23.4%
B2 change in Registered Office	20.2%	36.0%	46.8%	56.4%	58.5%
Bus Names Registration & changes	9.2%	26.5%	44.1%	65.9%	71.6%
Others	n/a	n/a	n/a	18.8%	22.4%

Strategy to Encourage Take-up of e-Filing

In our 2007 Business Plan we undertook to launch a nationwide training programme and commence an advertising campaign to promote the pre-filled annual return. These are what we expect to be the main constituents of a strategy to encourage the take-up of e-filing which will be developed and implemented with the assistance of an external contractor. In advance of embarking on this strategy, it was decided that we should try to identify the obstacles, real or perceived, to the take-up of e-filing. Market research was conducted at the end of the year and the results will inform the development of the strategy. The results were encouraging and suggest that two thirds of filing agents are filing electronically, half of those filing annual returns by this method.

CUSTOMER SERVICE

CORE (Companies Online Registration Environment)

CORE allows presenters to view, in a managed environment, up to date information on companies for which they are a filing agent. It also allows customers to view their accounts' statements and transactions. The e-filing environment has been integrated into CORE, providing a much improved functionality for the management of e-filed forms. Its popularity continues to increase, receiving more than 11,000 unique visitors in October 2007. Additional functionality was added in 2007 to allow customers to download their account statements. A version in Irish has also been added.

Information Unit

The number of calls received during 2007 was similar to those received during 2006 with nearly 160,000 calls received during the year i.e. an average of 3,048 calls per week.

An e-mail handling system is available to give customers alternative methods of contacting the office (info@cro.ie).

Over 15,740 e-mails were answered during 2007. This is 24% up on e-mails answered in 2006. 74% of e-mails were replied to within 8 hours of receipt.

The CRO is encouraging its customers to e-mail their queries to the office instead of phoning, where the information unit will endeavour to reply to their questions that same day.

Publications

The CRO published an ezine monthly during 2007. This is an electronic bulletin that informs subscribers of the current developments within the Office and also notifies subscribers of future events.

In Spring 2007 an information bulletin issued to all company directors. It dealt with filing an online annual return and changes in disclosure requirements.

An advertising campaign was conducted to inform customers regarding the new arrangements resulting from the partial decentralisation.

In 2007 the CRO did an upgrade to its website following technical difficulties. A new content management tool was installed and the new website was available to the public from early August.

Customer Present Credit Card Facility

A preferred provider of customer present credit card payment facilities has been selected. The implementation will be completed during 2008.

DECENTRALISATION

Postal Lodgements and Annual Returns Section, Carlow

The first phase of the decentralisation of the Companies Registration Office (CRO) to Carlow was implemented with effect from 30 July, 2007, when 32 staff of the CRO took up duty in a newly constructed office at O'Brien Road, Carlow.

This was a major undertaking, not just in terms of the logistical and IT aspects of such a move, but also in terms of integrating and training a new corps of staff as the majority of the people involved in the move had not previously worked in the CRO. The Carlow office is equipped to the highest standard and is operating a new integrated document receipt and scanning process to shorten the time taken to make documents available for public inspection. The office is successfully receiving and processing over 1,000 annual returns and statutory filings a day.

The primary purpose of the new office in Carlow is to act as a postal lodgements office and annual return processing section for the CRO. The rationale for this decision was that the opening of post, processing to "received" stage and immediate scanning of documents would eliminate the need for paper documents to be routed in several directions, thereby reducing the incidence of documents being mislaid. The staff in Dublin based sections of CRO now work off the scanned images while the original documents are stored in Carlow. Requests from staff in Dublin for documents to be retrieved for re-scanning or return are submitted through an electronic Workflow system and processed by the staff in Carlow. This system is working very well.

The specific functions which moved to Carlow and the performance standards set for them are set out below:

Back Cash: The following documents, and accompanying fees, received in the post in Carlow are now processed to "received" status in Carlow:

- annual returns and correspondence regarding annual returns,
- submissions relating to:
 - directors, secretaries, registered office address, auditors,
 - liquidations, receivership, wind-up, amendments to share capital,
 - amendments to memoranda and articles of associations,
 - restorations, resolutions, changes to membership, prospectuses.
- applications to open customer accounts and cheques for lodgment to customer accounts.

The timeframes and success rates for processing documents are as follows:

Processing documents to “received” stage: Urgent post is received within 24 hours, exact fees within 48 hours, ordinary post within 72 hours and within 5 days during peak periods. These standards are generally being achieved. 172,805 annual returns were received in 2007 of which 32,000 were returned due to a variety of reasons. Over half of those were returned because they were late and required a late filing penalty and, in many cases, audited accounts.

Scanning: All documents received in Carlow are being scanned and stored in Carlow. The timescales for scanning are 24 hours after receipt onto the Registration System, normally, and 72 hours at peak periods.

Returns/rescans: Documents are being returned or rescanned on foot of requests from Dublin within 24 hours if urgent, 48 hours normally and within 5 days at peak times.

Registration of e-filed annual returns: Due to the upheaval involved in setting up the new office in Carlow, registration of those electronic annual returns which do not auto register has fallen behind but it is intended to clear this backlog before the end of 2008. The aim is to extend the use of the pre-filled annual return as a means of reducing and eliminating the backlog of unregistered but received and scanned annual returns.

Request for waivers of late penalties: Transmission of decisions on appeals against imposition of late filing fees or related issues within 2 weeks of receipt.

Filing & storage: It was intended that following decentralisation, all CRO documents would be sent to Carlow for storage and that Carlow would become the central repository for all CRO documents both current and historical. Due to difficulties in sourcing a suitable off-site storage facility in Carlow, this could not be fully implemented in 2007 but it is expected to be operational in the latter half of 2008.

The Carlow office is a postal lodgements office only and does not have a public counter. The CRO's public enquiries and lodgements office remains in Dublin.

The decentralisation of the remainder of the CRO to Carlow is scheduled to take place in 2010.

Registration of Prospectuses

Prospectuses

The Investment Funds, Companies and miscellaneous provisions Act 2005 and SI 324 /2005 which gave effect to the Prospectus Directive 2003/71/EC were enacted in June 2005. In succeeding years these will result in a reduction in the number of prospectuses received at the CRO.

All prospectuses over €2,500,000 require prior approval by IFSRA.

Only those relating to Irish registered companies may then be presented to the CRO for registration.

Local offers defined as such by being less than €2,500,000 whether for Irish or foreign registered companies should be presented to the CRO for registration.

New forms B18 & B18A have been created with ease of registration a priority.

Domestic Prospectuses over €2,500,000

262 companies registered in the state submitted prospectuses during the year. Prospectuses were registered by the following companies:
