APPENDIX 1: DEFINITION OF IRISH-RESIDENT FOR THE PURPOSES OF SECTION 137 4
APPENDIX 2: FORM OF BOND SECURED BY A COMPANY THAT DOES NOT HAVE A RESIDENT DIRECTOR 5
1. INTRODUCTION

At least one of the directors for the time being of a company is required to be resident in a member State of the European Economic Area (EEA).\(^1\) Having an EEA-resident alternate director does not satisfy this requirement.\(^2\)

The European Economic Area member States are:

Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden and the United Kingdom.

This requirement does not apply to any company that for the time being holds a bond or a section 140 certificate\(^3\).

This leaflet is a brief guide only and should be read in conjunction with the relevant legislation. You should contact your professional adviser if further assistance is required.

All forms (and associated filing fees) referred to in this publication are available at www.cro.ie.

2. REQUIREMENT TO HAVE AT LEAST ONE EEA-RESIDENT DIRECTOR

The requirement to have at least one EEA-resident director does not apply to any company which for the time being holds a bond, in the prescribed form, in force to the value of €25,000. This bond provides that in the event of a failure by the company to pay

(a) a fine imposed on the company in respect of an offence committed by it under the Companies Act 2014 and/or
(b) a fine imposed on the company in respect of an offence committed by it under section 1078 Taxes Consolidation Act 1997 and which consists of a failure by the company to deliver a statement under section 882 of that Act or to comply with a notice served on it under section 884 of that Act, and/or
(c) a penalty which it has been held liable to pay under section 1071 or 1073 Taxes Consolidation Act 1997, a sum of money becomes payable under the bond in discharge of the whole or part of the company’s liability in respect of any such fine or penalty.

No bond can be accepted by the CRO for the purposes of section 137 Companies Act 2014 other than the prescribed form (see Appendix 2).

The Surety under the bond must be a member of a class specified in Schedule 2 to the Companies Act 2014 (Bonding) Order 2015 i.e. a bank, building society, insurance company or credit institution.

It should be noted that it is a criminal offence not to have at least one EEA-resident director of an Irish-registered company.\(^3\)\(^,\)\(^4\) The company and every officer of the company who is in default may be prosecuted in this regard. The Registrar of Companies is empowered to bring proceedings before the Dublin Metropolitan District Court for breach of the requirement to have an EEA-resident director.

1. Section 137 Companies Act 2014
2. Section 137(7) of the Act. An alternate director is a substitute director who may be appointed by a full-time director if the articles of the company so permit.
3. See 4.2 below regarding section 140 certificates.
4. Or a current bond or a current section 140 certificate: Section 137(6) of the Companies Act.
3. NEW COMPANIES

A bond must accompany any application for incorporation of a company where none of the directors is an European Economic Area (EEA)-resident.

Where a bond is being filed, the following requirements must be met:

• Presenters are to clearly identify applications for incorporation that are accompanied by bonds.
• The prescribed execution requirements (i.e. under the Common Seal of the Surety) must be adhered to.
• The original bond, together with a certified copy, should be submitted to the CRO with the Form A1.

3.1 Effective date of bond

A period of two years is prescribed by the Companies Act 2014 (Bonding) Order 2015 as the minimum period of validity of the bond. This period may commence “not earlier than the occurrence of the event which gave rise to the requirement to effect a bond”. Furthermore, for new companies, the bond must be effective as at the date of incorporation.

With regard to new companies, the event that gives rise to the requirement to effect a bond is the incorporation of a company without an EEA-resident director. However, there is also a statutory requirement that the bond be furnished to the CRO pre-incorporation, with the Form A1.

We acknowledge that the foregoing may cause some difficulties in practice for companies.

It should be noted that paragraph 5 of the bond enables the parties to stipulate its commencement date. This is not required to correspond with the date on which the parties execute the bond, and so the parties have a degree of flexibility.

The CRO has implemented the following requirements in relation to the effective date of bonds received in connection with new companies:

The effective date of the bond may not exceed four working days prior to the date of the company’s incorporation, exclusive of incorporation date.

As customers are aware, service standards apply to all incorporation schemes. These are:

Fé Phrainn: incorporation within 10 working days of receipt of documents
A1 Online: incorporation within 5 working days of receipt of documents
Ordinary: while there is no guaranteed service level, in practice incorporation is currently taking 15 working days after date of receipt of documents

In calculating the date from which the bond is to take effect, therefore, applicants ought to take account of the manner in which they are incorporating and the relevant time scales.

The following effective dates apply in practice:

Fé Phrainn: the fifth working day after the date of receipt of Form A1 by the CRO
A1 Online: as and from the date of receipt of Form A1
Ordinary: as and from the tenth working day after the date of receipt of Form A1

The bond is a very valuable and time-constrained document. Thus where it is attached to incorporation documents filed with the CRO (especially on Online A1), the words “Bond Enclosed” must be written on the accompanying envelope and the relevant box on the cover page of Form A1 must be ticked.

In the event that an application for incorporation, which is accompanied by a bond, is returned by the CRO to the presenter for amendment, a new bond with an adjusted effective date in line with the above will be required, unless the revised application is resubmitted to the CRO within five working days.
4. EXISTING COMPANIES

Where the termination of a directorship notified on Form B10 leaves the company without an European Economic Area (EEA)-resident director, the company should lodge either a bond with the B10 notifying the CRO of the termination of the directorship of the sole or last remaining EEA-resident or obtain a certificate pursuant to section 140 Companies Act 2014. (See 4.2 below)

4.1. Bond

Where a bond is being filed post-incorporation:

- The prescribed execution requirements (i.e. under the Common Seal of the Surety) must be adhered to.
- The original bond, together with a certified copy of same, should be submitted by the company with Form B10. Otherwise, the resigning director may submit the bond with a letter sent to the Registrar of Companies, within 14 days of his/her resignation, notifying the Registrar that to his/her knowledge, no other director of the company is resident in a member State. If the bond has not already been so filed as at the date on which the annual return of the company is delivered to the CRO, the bond is required to be sent to the CRO with the annual return of the company, if during the period to which the return relates none of the directors of the company is an EEA-resident.
- Presenters are requested to clearly identify Forms B10 and B1 accompanied by bonds, by ticking the appropriate tick box on the front page of the respective form.

4.1.1. Effective date of bond

A period of two years is prescribed by the Companies Act 2014 (Bonding) Order 2015 as the minimum period of validity of the bond. This period may commence “not earlier than the occurrence of the event which gave rise to the requirement to effect a bond”.

Where the only EEA-resident director of a company resigns post-incorporation, the period of validity of the bond ought to commence with effect from the date of resignation of the EEA-resident director.

It should be noted that paragraph 5 of the bond enables the parties to stipulate the commencement date of the bond. This is not required to correspond with the date on which the parties execute the bond. Accordingly, bonds may be entered into in advance of the date on which the company’s obligation to have a bond in place arises, provided that (a) its period of validity commences no earlier than that date and (b) it is for a minimum period of two years.

4.2. Section 140 certificate

If following incorporation, a company applies for and is granted a certificate from the Registrar of Companies that the company “has a real and continuous link with one or more economic activities that are being carried on in the State”, that company will be exempted from the requirement to have at least one EEA-resident director from the date of the certificate, as long as the certificate remains in force.

In order to obtain a certificate that it has such a link, the company will have to satisfy the Revenue Commissioners that one or more of the following conditions are satisfied by the company:

- (a) the affairs of the company are managed by one or more persons from a place of business established in the State and that person or those persons is or are authorised by the company to act on its behalf;
- (b) the company carries on a trade in the State;
- (c) the company is a subsidiary or a holding company of a company or another body corporate that satisfies either or both of the conditions specified in paragraphs (a) and (b);
- (d) the company is a subsidiary of a company, another subsidiary of which satisfies either or both of the conditions specified in paragraphs (a) and (b).

(Section 140(9) of the Companies Act 2014).

Application for a section 140 certificate is made to the CRO on Form B67. This application must be accompanied by a statement from Revenue, made within two months of the date of the application to the CRO, that it has reasonable grounds to believe that the company has such a link. Application to Revenue for the necessary statement can be made to Revenue Commissioners, Companies Unit, PO Box 1 Wexford.
